

“Trauma-Informed Teaching” Video Series: Related Resources

Episode 7: Engaging the Whole School Staff

Reflection Questions

1. How does your school engage Education Support Professionals (e.g., paraeducators, transportation staff, etc.) and Specialized Instructional Support Personnel (e.g., school counselors, nurses, etc.) in supporting students?
2. Are there ways that your school could improve upon the ways that staff collaborate to support students who are struggling behaviorally, socially, and/or emotionally?

Additional Resources

Every Opportunity: A simple video that makes a powerful point about the impact that each school professional has on a student’s day.

Education Support Professionals Often First to See Student Mental Health

Struggles: An article highlighting the critical role that Education Support Professionals (ESPs) play in addressing student mental health.